To the DAILY GAZETTEER.

SIR,

THERE is nothing that shews so just a Way of Thinking in a Great Man, as his totally disregarding the Yelpings of the Small Curs of Faction, and suffering them to spend their Little Breaths in vain. The Behaviour of the Mastiff, who, instead of being offended at their Noise, [illegible] up his Leg and p—ss—d upon them, was, tho' Mark of Contempt, taking too much Notice of them; and can only be excused by his wanting, at that Time, to perform that necessary Duty.

By Curs of Faction, I mean such whose Private Characters are in themselves so very Low or Bad, that 'tis a Mockery of Principles in them to pretend to

The Use, or Abuse, of Power; the Conduct of a War, or a Negociation; the Nature of Elections; the Freedom and Independency of Parliaments; are Things so much above their Level, that a great Man descends beneath his Character that even listens to them.

How ill (for Example) would it become a Minister of State, who from Manhood onwards has spent many Years in the Exercise of Government, and has ever been conversant in the highest Life, to measure himself with a little, low Creature, whose utmost Extent of Capacity has been employ'd in over reaching Managers of Playhouses and Actors; and who has shewn so little Skill, even in this low Sphere, that he has brought himself into the greatest Degree of Contempt with them, and has forfeited their Esteem and Love, which in a late Paper he has been endeavouring to regain, by flattering some thro' ———, and others thro' a Meanness of Principle of another Sort.

It would be an Act of Publick Justice in any indifferent Body, to pluck the Mask from the Face of such Cursers of Ministers, and shew the Town what a Contemptible, Abject Thing, they have all this while been eccholing to: But 'tis an Office I am not fond of, tho' it might place him in his true Light.

It is not necessary for a Writer to be a good Man absolutely; but it would be some Advantage to him not to be a bad one; for in Cases of a doubtful Nature which he may lay before his Readers, they will in good Measure be guided by their Opinion of his Principles and Morals.

This Writer, this Hercules, as he affects to call himself; this Champion of Virtue, Honour, Patriotism, has, in many Papers, arraign'd the Conduct of the Ministry, and charg'd both it and the Representatives of the People, as being a corrupt Body of Men, only govern'd by Fear or Interest; sacrificing the Liberties of their Country, the Property of the Individual to the Ambitious or Sordid Views of One Man—Bribing the People to choose them, and afterwards betraying that very People who chose them. Flattering, servile, tame, cringing —, &c.

As this Charge may not be generally admitted tho' he himself may be very clear in it) it will acquire more or less Belief in the Minds of his Readers, as they have Reason, from a Knowledge of the Character of him that delivers it, to believe it proceeds from a Man of real Virtue and Principle; one that is the Reverse, in his little Sphere, of all he lays at their Door; one, at least, of sufficient Dignity of Character to entitle him to inquire into Things of such exalted Nature, and to be answer'd——— And of one, who imploy'd his Wit, some Years ago, in Lewd Scenes against the Foundation of all Government and Religion whatsoever;—— of one, who was so little serious as to the Consequences of Corruption, that he took away all the Odium of such Practices, by making it more a Subject for Laughter than Detestation;—— of one whose unbridled Licentiousness brought on (what has been thought by some) an unnecessary and hurtful Restraint on the Stage; and who is endeavouring by frequent Provocations to draw the same on the Press; of one whose Private Conduct on many Occasions, is charitably pass'd over, lest it should make his Readers (those at least who are sincere in the Cause of Virtue) blush, to make so contaminated a Mouth the Channel of their purer Sentiments; and whose Publick Character, as a Politician, never went, as has been observ'd above, beyond the low, interested Cunning of a Theatre; in bringing a Play on at the best and most profitable Time of the Season, and reconciling Actors to Parts they might not so well approve of.

Is this a FELLOW fit to speak to a Nation? To set forth its Wrongs: To harangue like a Demosthenes! To persuade!—— Can the many Great and Excellent Personages that compose the Opposition make no better Choice? Are they so wanting to themselves and their own Cause, as to think Declamation on Virtue, Liberty, Publick Spirit, can come with any Weight, from a Mouth whose Heart is steel'd against such Sentiments! who never harbour'd a Principle but what tended to Self-Interest! who writes now, for the very Money he gets by the Paper, and not from any Conviction, or Concern for his suffering Country! and, who wou'd give over writing, the Moment he got nothing by it! who is more a Hireling and a Mercenary than any one of the Legion, as he calls them; who laughs to his Sleeve at the Protection he finds from the Passions of some Great Men, whose Parrot he makes himself, to speak by Rote their Resentments!

But to comment a little on the Writer, without Regard to his Writings:

His natural Genius (Ex pede Herculem) prompted him at his first Setting-out, to style himself of Hockley in the Hole,— assuming, with great Elegance and Propriety, a Title and Residence, that of course must give his Readers a high Opinion of his Judgement; if he intended to remonstrate, with Gravity becoming the Subject, against evil Measures and publick Mismanagement, or, if with Scurrility and Bear-garden Language, of his Character. He soon grew sensible of his Error, and removed to Pall mall, near the Court; but tho' he was seated in a more polite Quarter, he was still nothing more than a Mob Captain, a Hercules Vinegar.

He must have a very weak Head not to have confin'd himself merely to be a Champion, without the Addition of the latter Title, which could serve him in nothing, but in being abusive.

Many Reasons might have induced him to make this Choice.

A Champion is a Court Creature,—— has the Honour of being, on some Occasions, drank to by Kings and Queens, and of pledging them, which he has no manner of Aversion to, for he will drink with any body,— has a Salary allow'd him to support their Right and Title, which is quite in his Way of Thinking,—— is arm'd with a Coat of Mail when he enters the Lists, and need not be under any Apprehensions that his Challenge will be accepted,—— a Circumstance decently to be wished; whereas now he carries a Hercules's Club about, he is under an Obligation to be a Hercules himself, which may expose him to many Dangers; for what a Disgrace would it be, to have his own Club employ'd against him!

But to conclude this short Comment on him,—— He is, whether consider'd in a grave or a ludicrous Light, unfit to be a Champion to any Party, but that wherein he presided before he remov'd his Quarters, viz. The Mob of a Bear-garden

I am, Sir, Yours, &c.

Hague, October, 16. N. S.

A Piece was lately publish'd here, intituled, 'A 'Summary of the Rights of his Majesty the 'King of Prussia to Herstal,' the Author of which takes upon him to prove, that the said Territory is an immediate Fief of the Empire; that the Contracts by which 'tis pretended that the Jurisdiction and Sovereignty thereof were yielded to the Church of Liege are in themselves null and void, both as to the Substance and Form; and in short, that the Fines or Acknowledgments which are challeng'd on the Part of Liege were made, either falso Facto, or thro' Ignorance, or by Compulsion. 'A free Territory of the 'Empire, says the Author, being devolv'd by Succession to the Family of Prussia, 'tis necessary it 'should enjoy it with all its Rights, and the Power 'that does not know how to support them is not worthy to have them. Rem suam deserere turpissimum est.'

N. B. This Piece was suppress'd soon after it was publish'd in Holland, at the Request even of the King of Prussia's Envoy, in compliance wherewith the Copies of it that were still remaining in the Printer's Hands were seiz'd by Order of the Grand Pensionary: And another is since publish'd by Order of the Court of Berlin, intituled, 'An exact and succinct Account of 'the irregular Proceedings and Attacks of the Bishop 'and Prince of Liege against the indisputable Rights 'of the King of Prussia, as Lord of the free and independent Barony of Herstal.'

LONDON.

Extract of a Letter, dated, Kinston Jamaica, July 25.

Our Men of War and private Cruizers harrass the Spanish Guarda Costas, &c. on all Sides. Capt. Henry Bennet has lately taken and destroy'd two Sloops fitted out by the General of the Galleons from Carthagena, mann'd out of his own Ships and commanded by some of his best Officers. Capt. Stapleton, in the Sheerness Man of War, has just burnt a Privateer of St. Jago de Cuba, of 8 Carriage and 10 Swivel Guns and 70 Men, in the Windward Passage. And Capt. Douglas brought in the Dutch Ship who was carrying the new Vice King of Mexico from Cadiz to Vera Cruz; he himself, his Son and Physician, narrowly escaping in a Bark which they took with them from Porto Rico under such Apprehensions, but in their Hurry left behind them a Portmanteau in which they had pack'd up his Commission, Instructions, valuable Papers and Jewels, besides all the rest of his Retinue, and valuable Loading of the Ship. Our brave Admiral, tho' for want of Stores he is prevented pursuing any important Enterprize with his Whole Squadron, yet keeps all the single Ships he can at any rate equip continually out cruizing, and affords all possible Assistance and Protection to our Trade. We are impatiently expecting the Ships that have been so long promised from England to enable him to carry on his glorious Designs.

The Men of War, and Store-ships, were off Barbadoes, in their Way to Jamaica, about the 9th of August.

Extract of a Letter from Jamaica, by His Majesty's Ship the Greenwich, dated July 26, 1740.

"Give me Leave to acquaint you of the gallant Behaviour of one of our Privateers, Capt. Stuart, who being off of Carthagena in a Snow with 60 Hands, the General of the Galleons ordered out two Sloops after him, commanded by some of his best Officers, who had the choosing of the best Men of his Squadron to the Number of Two Hundred or upwards. The Snow managed it so as to fight but with one of them, which was commanded by Pise, and they fought from Eight till about Five in the Evening, when Stuart took her; she having only 8 Men left alive at last. It unfortunately happen'd, that at the Time of taking her Stuart's Anchor fasten'd some how to her Bow, so that he could not get loose; by which Means he could not keep off the other Sloop commanded by Palanca (the Man that cut off Jenkin's Ear) who boarding him with fresh Men over power'd him, tho' Stuart kill'd a great many of his Men before they boarded. This unhappy Accident was soon follow'd by a good one, for soon after two of our Sloops came in Sight; and the Spaniards were so reduced by this Action, that they had not the Courage to think of making any Resistance, but run the Two Sloops and Snow a-ground, where ours took them. It is said that our Men used the Spaniards cruelly, upon hearing that they had used ours so: This Stuart won't confess to me, but says that the Spaniards kill'd some of his Men in cold Blood, and wounded others, and that he would have been kill'd himself, if one of the Officers had not protected him, whom he was able afterwards to pay in Kind. Palanca ransomed himself of the Privateer for 5000 Dollars. Twenty-nine of Stuart's Men are alive, but not one of them that was not wounded in the Engagement, and some of them afterwards too: Some are all over Wounds, particularly Two Mosquito Indians, whom I have seen since, who behaved themselves, they say, most desperately. I think it must mortify the General of the Galleons, to find his choice Men and best Officers beat by a Quarter of their Number, composed of Indians, Mulattoes and Negroes, and such White Men as could be pick'd up here and there.

This is a true Account (tho' not in Sea Terms, which I never can learn) as related to me by Stuart, of his bloody Engagement."

We hear that the Corporation of Newcastle have ordered Capt. Sowle his Freedom, which is to be presented to him in a Gold Box that is to weigh 50 Guineas, as a Compliment for his so seasonably entering that Town (with 3 Companies of Foot under his Command) on the 26th of June last, and putting a Stop to the Riot. They have likewise order'd a Plate of 40 Guineas Value to be presented to Capt. Fielding, one of 30 to Ensign Hewer, and 10 Guineas to each of the said three Companies.

We hear that the present State of the Navy is ordered to be laid before the Lords of the Admiralty, and that all the Ships of War unfit for Service will be order'd to be rebuilt.

Yesterday Morning a Match was run from Hyde-park Corner to Fulham, by Mr. Watkins's Grey Horse Bony Boy, and Mr. Thompson's Bay Gelding Why not, for 50 l. a Side, which was won by the latter, tho' hard run.

Yesterday began the General Quarter Sessions of the Peace for the City and Liberty of Westminster, when Sir John Gonson, Knt. Chairman of the said Sessions gave a most Excellent and Learned Charge to the Grand Jury, for which he receiv'd the Thanks of the Court,

At the said Sessions several Persons of Distinction took the Oaths to qualify themselves for their respective Employments under the Government; and several Persons who stood bound over, appeared on their Recognizances, and were further continued.

On Saturday last one Ann Connelly, otherwise O Hara, was committed to Newgate by Col. De Veil, for feloniously taking from Mr. Bezer Blundell a Silver Watch, his Property. And on Monday Maria Plater was committed to the same Place, by the same Gentleman, for stealing a great Quantity of Wearing Apparel, out of the Lodgings of Mrs. Jane Simpson. As was Yesterday Mary Anderson, otherwise Strong, for stealing a Silver Spoon out of the Dwelling-house of Mr. Peter Rose.

And Yesterday John Edwards and Jonathan Bull were also committed to New Prison and the Gate-house, for further Examination, for the Murder of a Man hitherto unknown, about two Years ago, which was committed in the Manner hereafter described.

The said John Edwards having made the following Confession, and sign'd it voluntarily.

That he and Jonathan Bull, both which are in Custody, with Joseph Barnes and Lawrence Shaw, did about 2 Years, having ago been at a Bull-baiting near Mary le Bone, upon their Return to London, meet with a Man and Woman in a Field near a Barn by Mary le Bone aforesaid; and having demanded the said Woman to be delivered to them, the Man, under whose Protection she was, refused it, whereupon they immediately knock'd him down, and dragging him into the said Barn they murder'd him, and cover'd him with Straw, where he was found; and the Coroner's Inquest having sat upon him, they brought in their Verdict Wilful Murder by Persons unknown.

The Discovery of this Murder was brought to light by the said John Edwards, who being terrify'd in his Mind it threw him into Fits, at which Time he constantly said something about this Murder; which being taken notice of, he was tax'd with it when quite in his Senses, and having confess'd it to one Mr. Cox, he made an Information of it before Col. De Veil, which occasion'd the taking the said Edwards and Bull.

The Quarter-Sessions begins this Day at Westminster, and will be held by Adjournment on Monday at Hicks's-Hall. The Sessions for London will be held on Monday at Guildhall, and on Wednesday next at the Old Bailey.

An Infallible CURE
For Barrenness in Women, and Impotency in Men
By Superlative ENLIVENING DROPS;
Which in a few Days render both Sexes Prolific in a most wonderful Manner.

HUndreds of Ladies who were deem'd incurably Barren, and very many who thought themselves too old to bear Children, have immediately conceived after three or four Doses of them only 3 and vast Numbers of GENTLEMEN by taking them, have presently become capable of propagating their Species, who before, thro' either Infirmity or Age, imagin'd it impossible.

They almost instantly renovate the vital Ferment of the Blood and Juices, rectify the languid State of all the Fluids, rouse, fortify and increase the Spirits, invigorate the Nerves, reduce perfect Warmth, and cause a sparkling Gladness and ardent Courage to flow in the Heart, and expand itself thro' the whole human System, so as sensibly to enliven and invigorate all the animal Faculties, and corroborate or strengthen the whole Body, as well as the Part appropriated to Generation, and do infallibly cure Barrenness in one Sex, and Impotency in the other, from what Cause soever proceeding, as Thousands have experienced.

They are also pleasant to take, are Cordial to the Stomach, create an Appetite, and procure a good Digestion, beyond anything known in the World. And are to be had only at RADFORD's Toy-shop, at the Rose and Crown against St. Clement's Church-Yard, in the Strand, Price 5 s. the Bottle, with Directions.

The so-much Fam'd HYPO-DROPS.

WHich in a few Days infallibly cure HYPOCHONDRIACK MELANCHOLY in Men, and the VAPOURS in WOMEN, so as never to return again, be they ever so severe, or of many Years standing, and even after all other Remedies have prov'd ineffectual; and that by immediately striking at the very Root or true Cause, as well as removing the Effects, of those perplexing Maladies and all their Variety of Symptoms, by which they mimick, by Turns, almost all the Diseases poor Mortals are afflicted with, and have their Rise from a depraved Appetite, vicious Ferment in the Stomach, and Indigestion of Food, whence proceed Crudities and flatulent or windy Disorders in the first Passages, hot Belchings, Cholick, Uneasiness in the Bowels, and ill Vapours, which offend the Nerves, and, by Consent of Parts, affect the Head, and produce sometimes Giddiness, Dimness of Sight, confused Thoughts, pertinacious Watchings, troublesome Sleep, Frights, groundless Fears, and the deepest Melancholy, with direful Views and terrible Apprehensions; at other times, Fits, Flushing Heats, Reachings, Faintness, Lowness and Sinking of Spirits, Palpitation of the Heart, Startings, Tremblings, and Twitchings in the Limbs and other Parts, with many convulsive Disorders, sharp Pains, fix'd or wandering Pain and Weakness in the Back, and other, almost innumerable and grievous, Symptoms, which miserably affect vast Numbers of both Sexes.

All which Symptoms, in their sharpest Paroxysms, these so much fam'd and most pleasant Drops, (which are Chymically prepar'd from the most valuable Specifick in the Mineral, Vegetable, and Animal Kingdoms, and exalted to the highest Degree of Perfection possible) instantly quell, and at the same time annihilate their real Cause, directly bringing the Stomach into right Order, creating a good Appetite, restoring the Digestion, occasioning laudable Chyle, and, of course, good Blood, Plenty of calm, free, and chearful Spirits, a regular Circulation of all the Fluids, and Strength of Nerves, so that both Cause and Effects of Melancholy and Vapours are thoroughly removed by them, almost on the Spot, as the many Thousands of both Sexes they have perfectly cured evince.

Whoever takes them for 3 Days only, will be sensible that they are absolutely to be depended upon for an effectual and lasting Cure, and certain it is, that no Medicine upon Earth can equal them; be careful therefore to have the right Drops, which are to be had only at Mrs. Holt's, at the Cloth-Key and Star in Cornhill, near Stocks-Market, at 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle with Directions.
